

The Long and Short of it – Weekly Update

Week in review:

Another positive week for stock markets with all 3 major indexes moving higher. Indexes recorded gains each day last week, except for Wednesday when they experienced sharp declines. Momentum from last week's gains moved indexes higher early in the week, driven by expectations of early-next-year rate cuts combined with a resilient economy, despite some hawkish comments by Fed officials. Wednesday's sharp sell-off (with all 3 indexes dropping at least 1 ¼ percent) came on the heels of stronger-than-expected consumer confidence and existing home sales, seemingly tempering rate cut expectations and, as a result, bolstering risk-off sentiment. Those concerns, however, significantly faded with Thursday's revised-lower Q3 GDP (final estimate) and, perhaps more importantly, with Thursday's revised-lower third quarter PCE Price Index (part of the GDP report). Friday's better-than-expected current PCE Price Index release reduced concerns further, further supporting stock prices. For the week, the S&P 500 Index rose 0.8% to 4,754.63, the Nasdaq Composite Index climbed 1.2% to 14,992.97, the Dow Jones Industrial Average increased 0.2% to 37,385.97, the 10-year U.S. Treasury rate fell 1bps to 3.90% and the U.S. dollar (as measured by the ICE U.S. Dollar index – DXY) weakened 0.9%.

Both the STOXX 600 and FTSE 100 Indexes rose last week but with the FTSE 100 Index strongly outperforming. Lower-than-expected euro zone (and German) inflation worked to move the STOXX 600 Index higher last week but gains were capped by hawkish ECB officials' comments (refuting the ECB would cut rates early next year), Chinese regulation of video game purchases and sharply lower sportswear stock prices following Nike's disappointing sales forecast. Much lower-than-expected UK inflation along with rising oil and metals prices pushed the FTSE 100 Index higher. Growing expectations of BoE rate cuts early next year (bolstered by cooling inflation and recession concerns) were the primary impetus. FTSE 100 Index gains were somewhat capped, however, by continued strengthening of the British pound. For the week, the FTSE 100 Index increased 1.6% to 7,697.51, the STOXX 600 Index rose 0.2% to 477.60, the 10-year Gilt rate fell 18bps to 3.51%, the 10-year Bund rate decreased 4bps to 1.97% and the British pound and euro strengthened 0.2% and 1.1%, respectively, both versus the U.S. dollar.

Specifically, this document is not intended for general distribution in the United States or Canada.

Investing in financial markets involves a substantial degree of risk. Nothing described herein is intended to imply that an investment is “safe”, “conservative”, “risk free” or “risk averse”. This document does not consider the specific investment objective, financial situation or particular needs of any potential investor and is intended only for those investors who are capable of understanding the risk of loss of all or a substantial part of their monies. Potential investors in the UK are reminded that they will not benefit from the UK investors compensation scheme. No recommendation is made positive or otherwise, regarding individual securities or investments mentioned herein. Any summary list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in short and leveraged products. Prospective investors must consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest.

Risk Factors

An investment in a GraniteShares short and leveraged exchange traded product (“ETP”) may not be suitable for all investors. They are intended for investors who wish to take a very short-term view on the underlying asset and are not intended as buy and hold investments.

Performance and capital loss: Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. The value of an investment may go down as well as up and can result in losses, up to and including a total loss of the amount initially invested.

Generic risks: Investments in ETPs involve numerous risks including, among others, company risks, general market risks, credit risks, foreign exchange risks, interest rate risks, geopolitical risks and liquidity risks.

Specific product risks: The Index is constructed to track the performance of an increased (leveraged) and/or short exposure to the underlying asset. A fall (or rise where short and leveraged exposure) in value of the underlying asset can result in a greater reduction in the level of the Index. The Index is designed to do this on a daily basis only which should not be equated with seeking a leveraged position for periods longer than a day. The ETP’s performance over periods longer than one day will not be correlated or symmetrical with the returns of the underlying asset. Potential investors should refer to the section entitled “Risk Factors” and “Economic Overview of the ETP Securities” in the Prospectus relating to the GraniteShares ETPs for further details of these and other risks associated with an investment in short and leveraged ETPs and consult their financial advisers as needed.

Counterparty risk: An investment in a GraniteShares short and leveraged ETP involves counterparty risk. GraniteShares Financial plc has entered into a Swap Agreement with a counterparty, Natixis, that is backed with collateral. Failure of the counterparty to make payments may result in an investment in an ETP suffering a loss.
