Performance data quoted represents past performance and is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor’s shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than original cost. Returns less than one year are not annualized. NAV prices are used to calculate market price performance prior to the date when the Fund first traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Market performance is determined using the bid/ask midpoint at 4:00 PM Eastern time, when the NAV is typically calculated. Market performance does not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. For the fund’s most recent month-end performance, please call 1 (844) 476-8747 or visit www.graniteshares.com

1. An option is a contract that gives the holder the right, but not the obligation to buy or sell a specific asset at a predetermined price on or before a specified date. Options are a type of derivative, meaning their value is derived from the underlying asset.
2. A put option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to sell an underlying asset at a specified price (the strike price) by or on a specific date (the expiration date).
3. Is the annual rate an investor would receive if the most recent distribution remained the same going forward. The rate represents a single distribution from the fund and does not represent total return to the fund. The distribution rate is calculated by annualizing the most recent distribution and dividing it by the most recent NAV.(as of Oct 17, 2025).
4. The 30-Day SEC Yield represents the net investment income (excluding option income) earned by the ETF over the 30-day period ended [Most recent day the 30-SEC Yield was provided]. It is expressed as an annualized percentage rate based on the ETF's share price at the end of that period. This metric does not reflect the total of income generated by the fund, as it excludes option premium income central to the YieldBOOST strategy. (as of Sep 30, 2025)
5. GraniteShares Advisors LLC has contractually agreed to waive its fees and/or pay for the operating expenses of the Fund to ensure that the total fund operating expenses will not exceed 1.15% until December 31, 2025.
